Studio Artists Presenting Chroma

The Studio Artists at the Brush Gallery are pleased to announce their upcoming 38th annual group show entitled "CHROMA." The 9 Artists have brightened things up by creating a variety of exciting works that express perceptions and relationships of tone and hue as elements of color.

CHROMA is an uplifting treat for both the eyes, and the soul this fall. The Brush Studio Artists invite you to explore the effects that color can have on all of us through art. Their work will be on view in the Brush Art Gallery as well as via a virtual online Gallery for the very first time.

The Brush Art Gallery and Studios is located in the Lowell National Historical Park across the courtyard from the Visitor Center. This dynamic and captivating venue was originally founded by the Lowell Historic Preservation Commission, U.S. Department of the Interior. The Brush presents museum quality exhibitions, educational programs, and has collaborated with many other nonprofit groups. Artists occupy studio spaces to interact with and educate the public on a weekly basis. Currently, eleven studio artists produce paintings, illustration, photography, jewelry, sculpture, ceramics, quilts, and handwoven items. Associate artists display work in the common area. The Brush Art Gallery and Studios is a nonprofit, 501(c)(3) organization. The Brush is supported by the Lowell National Historical Park.
